MEMORANDUM FOR: Legislative Counsel
FROM: Director of Central Intelligence
SUBJECT: Contact with Admiral Matthews

1. Rear Admiral Spence Matthews of Congressman Chappell's office called me this morning. He asked if I would be willing to meet with a group of 15 students from Stetson University who were here under a Professor Bailey. They have a very poor image of me and the CIA. Professor Bailey has asked if it would be possible to meet with them for a few minutes to help them understand the value and importance of the intelligence function. He said five minutes would do.

2. I volunteered to be in Chappell's office at 0940 on Thursday, the 25th, just before my 1000 briefing to the Armed Services Committee in the same building.

3. Matthews was also very upset about the number of Defense people, including our uniformed military, who are likely to retire by the 1st of July because of the prohibition on working for the various people with whom you've done business after you've retired. I wonder if you could give me some explanation of this provision of the new Ethics in Government Act and your feeling as to whether it will affect us.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Admiral Turner

On your talk with the Stetson University students in Congressman Chappell's office on Thursday, 25 January:

With only 10 or 15 minutes, you are going to have to walk out on a lot of unanswered questions. If you wish, [REDACTED] and I will be there to continue the discussion after you leave.

I can handle anything on Agency-Academia relations and Dick is as qualified as anyone I know down the line to handle the more substantive questions that you do not have time for.

Do you want us to do it for you?

Attached is a memorandum on the Ethics in Government of 1978. It was prepared in response to the question posed to you by Rear Admiral Spence Matthews, of Rep. Chappell's office, last week.

accompanied by [REDACTED] STATINTL of my staff, met with the Stetson University students in Rep. Chappell's office on Thursday morning, 25 January. Admiral Matthews explained that you had been prevented by press of business from attending yourself, and said some extremely complimentary things about your performance as DCI. [REDACTED] gave a short presentation on the organization and mission of the Intelligence Community, and fielded questions from the students and their advisor, Professor Bailey.

The questions were thoughtful and objective, and although colored by less-than-accurate media reports about recent intelligence topics, reflected no hostility nor indication of a poor image of the Agency or the Director. Professor Bailey led the students in standing applause at the end of the presentation, and he and Admiral Matthews expressed themselves very pleased by the meeting. The students were friendly and curious, and several asked about employment opportunities with CIA.
